

Forecast for Day 3 on Ashdown Forest

Contributed by Simon
Saturday, 22 March 2008

The forecast for tomorrow is similar to today, with the prospect of snow showers, strong winds and scattered sunny intervals. At present we expect the event to go ahead as planned. The area is a lot more open than today, with extensive areas of rough moorland. You are strongly advised to wear or carry suitable clothing.