

Guess What: It Snowed Again

Contributed by Simon
Sunday, 23 March 2008

Day 3 at Ashdown provided more of the same, with heavy snow for the early starters. This cleared by mid-morning but it was still cold and muddy on the mix of woodland and moorland.

Daniel Hubmann produced a storming run to take a clear victory on the men's elite course over the two days, ahead of Graham Gristwood and Baptiste Rollier. Elise Egseth was the overall women's elite winner, ahead of Pippa Whitehouse and Racael Elder.

Full results and RouteGadget are now available.